

Tarter Teen Talk

By Pam Anderson

Thursday the Top 15 Homecoming Finalists Tea was held. At this time the 15 finalists received gold charms in honor of their nomination. The tea was also attended by the finalist's mothers, members of the student council, and members of the administration.

Tomorrow the student body will vote on the Queen and her court. The results will be announced at a rally Friday.

Dr. Ahee, Principal of Torrance High School, is on the lookout for any old T.H.S. yearbooks to put in a permanent collection commemorating our Golden Anniversary. Contributions are welcomed.

Questions Selected For Survey

Six questions selected by Congressman Alphonzo Bell's monthly newsletter to constituents this month were announced today by Bell in Washington, D. C.

Persons who do not receive the newsletter but wish to participate in the congressman's monthly poll may do so by answering questions "yes," "no," or "undecided" and mailing the replies to Bell's Washington office.

The questions are:

- Do you favor establishing a central depository for maintaining the government records of each citizen?
- Do you believe the President's 3.2 per cent growth guidelines have been respected by labor and management?
- Do you endorse the anti-riot amendment to the proposed Civil Rights Act of 1968?
- Do you support increased federal aid to cities in the United States?
- Do you believe we should substantially reduce our commitment of military forces in Europe?
- Do you favor the Ford Foundation recommendation for a non-profit communications satellite?

FRIDAY, the Tartar Ladies will be sponsoring a 5th Quarter Rally from 10:30 until midnight. The dance will be held in the Annex cafeteria and admission will be 50 cents.

Monday freshmen went to the polls to elect their fall officers. Results will be available next week in this column.

Last Thursday marked the end of the candy sale. The candy sale was a huge success but we didn't quite make our goal of $5,000.

SAURDAY, Oct. 29, 15 students from THS will be participating in the Torrance Safety Economy Run sponsored by Mobil Oil and the Torrance Elks Club.

Friday our Tartars suffered their second defeat of the year at the hands of the Aviation Falcons. This Friday, we will meet the Beverly Hills Normans on our field at 8 p.m. This game has been designated as Dad's Night in honor of the Varsity football players' fathers. See you there, dads!

Children Guests Of Greek Theatre

During the just completed season at the Greek Theatre in Griffith Park, 3,388 handicapped, underprivileged and orphaned children from 34 different hospitals, orphanages and juvenile homes, were guests of the theatre.

TEEN ATOM CONFERENCE

Torrance High Girl Selected to Attend

Margaret Ann Ackerman, a 17-year-old Torrance High School senior, today was named one of six Southern California winners in a competition to select 300 of the nation's brightest teenage scientists as delegates to the Eighth Annual National Youth Conference on the Atom in Chicago, Oct. 27 through 29.

Miss Ackerman and her high school science teacher, Charles Pillet — will fly to Chicago on Oct. 26 as part of the delegation sponsored by Southern California Edison Co. One student was selected from each of the six geographical divisions in Edison's service territory.

The six winners, along with their science teachers, were Edison's guests at a "get-acquainted" luncheon Monday. A tour of the San Onofre Nuclear Generation Station, now nearing completion, was included.

THE TORRANCE High School student — who lives at 1104 Cerise Ave. — was near the top of the rating scale in virtually every facet of the judging, according to Edison's selection committee.

A straight "A" student in every course she has taken in high school, Miss Ackerman is described by her school principal, Dr. Carl W. Ahee, as "an unusually talented and resourceful individual who will undoubtedly make significant contributions in the field of science."

She already has a well-crystallized goal in life: she intends to do medical research as a missionary doctor, and has been accepted by St. Olaf College, Northfield, Minn., to work toward this goal.

SHE HAS served as president of her church league, vice president of the California Scholarship Federation, vice president and secretary of the German Club, and as a member of the American Field Service Club, the International Relations Club, the Medical Careers Club, Student Congress, the Folk Singing Club, and a student service organization known as the Tartar Ladies.

In addition, she has for years maintained correspondence with "pen pals" in England and Germany.

Miss Ackerman received two successive grants to attend the National Science Foundation Seminar, and both times distinguished herself by making significant contributions in research projects, working under a senior scientist.

IN ONE OF these projects, she helped to formulate a practical method of identification of two types of bacteria which attack domestic cattle.

WHAT'S DOING?

A recent porpoise-to-porpoise long distance telephone call combined communications technology with marine biology. Participants in the conversation were "Speedy," a trained porpoise at Marineland of the Pacific and "Splash," his counterpart at Marineland of Florida. The two porpoises squeaked, chirped and whistled to each other over the 2,600 miles of telephone lines that separated them. Each listened intently to the other, with only occasional interruptions. Fortunately, a porpoise is a mammal, so no one can accuse me of telling a fish story.

45 years ago this month, the World Series baseball games were first broadcast on radio—from New York's Yankee Stadium and the Polo Grounds. Then, as now, the broadcasts traveled from the ballpark to the radio station over telephone lines.

When you're going out for the evening, here are a few suggestions that may help both you and the babysitter relax. Write down the names of the places you're going, the phone numbers, and the approximate times you'll be there. Have emergency numbers, including the family doctor's, written down also. Then—having taken these precautions, a night out can be more pleasurable.

Mark the date—November 8. (That's just an early reminder that voting day's not too far away.)

Home Fires - Easy to Prevent - Hard to Stop

Your Torrance Service Representative reminds you to be sure—you review with your family how you can quickly summon help in case of fire.

Home fires last year caused 12,000 people to lose their lives. Most of these fires were needless as they were the result of carelessness.

Cigarettes—Never smoke in bed. Make good use of ash trays and then empty them where there is no combustible material.

Flammable Clothing—Beware of today's synthetics; some of these are highly flammable. If you wear them, be very careful when around any open flame.

Flammable Liquids—Cleaning solvents, gasoline, kerosene, paint thinners, etc. should always be stored in proper containers—never glass. Did you know most hair sprays are extremely dangerous if used near open flames? Read the instructions for use and follow them.
